

Satariel "Devil's Dozen"

Visit "Devil's Dozen" on MotoLyrics.com

You good lord above - these gnostic words I say to thee,
If I somehow might be wrong
You're a failure as sure as i fail to be thy depiction
As if there actually would be something hearing all words,
I ramble these words though I know it will not pay off Anyhow, just like prayers are the misleads greatest curse

[CHORUS:]

By the Devil's dozen - existence must be cursed
By the Devil's dozen - I hope evolution goes reversed

I know that I to some extent can see what's above Daath
but it Repulses me, and I doubt that I know at all what's the point of
It all as Kether wishes to hide behind that which shunes
the
Light of illumination Illumination...

When I in questions in drunken haze blur,
And I fail to understand thine magick, O sir
I know that if there would be a devil as believed -
I surely would sell my soul without regret
But unfortunately every lie must die as I awake the true
I

So you of good, and you of evil -
You're but the symbols of how we fail
That there would be any kind of god must be the greatest
Ever told lie...
For the only god am I

[REPEAT CHORUS:...]

Visit Satariel page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

