CHORUS

You're always greater
Higher than the mountains
And deeper than the sea
You're always greater
So I lift my hands to praise You
And I lift my voice to sing
That You are always greater to me

Your love beckons me to stretch myself
Cause I cannot contain You in the walls that I have built
Won't You break them down so I can tell

That I cannot attain You
I cannot explain You
I cannot do anything but
Tell You that I love You cause You're
