I can see Your beauty in the blue of the sky
The trees of the fields and the birds that fly
And I cannot contain You in the oceans or the sea
I can see Your power in the heart of the storm
Your fire it consumes me and it keeps me warm
I cannot contain You no I can only sing

CHORUS

How I love You my King of Kings
How I love You my Prince of Peace
How I love You because You first loved me
How I love You my rising sun
How I love You my Only One
How I love You because You first loved me

I can see Your beauty in the things You have done
You bind us all together and You make us as one
And I cannot contain You I have to lift my voice
I can see Your power in the strength of Your hand
You walk upon the water turn the sea into dry land
I cannot contain my song I have no choice
