How can I believe it
That You would die for me
Even though I need it
This has eluded me
I can always listen
And I can always learn
You can show what I'm missing
Make sense of what I've heard

Maybe You are what I'm needing
To make it through the day
Maybe I could start believing
You can chase the night away

Draw me closer to You
Open up my eyes
Let Your hope break through to
Expose my clever disguise

Maybe You are what I'm needing
To make it through the day
Maybe I could start believing
You can chase the night away
Maybe I could free my mind up
And let my doubt grow still
Maybe you can make me smile again
And I think you will

I think you will
