Jenny lived at home a perfect little home She had everything a girl could ever dream of Only one thing wrong she had a restless heart She was looking for some love and understanding Then Billy came along and sang his rebel song She could see in him something to belive in And then they fell in love they couldn¹t help themselves

But will her family understand their reasons Bridge

Just let your feelings take control of you Follow your heart and don¹t let go Chorus

Two lovers one heartbeat Keep running keep hiding Surviving together You¹ve got to hold on She had a blazing row her father threw her out He didn¹t understand how much she really loved him

He knew he¹d gone too far she¹s never coming back

His stupid pride has sent her running to another She laid in Billy¹s arms she wished for better times They made a vow that they would always be together He¹d take her far away she¹d be his wife one day She had a dream that they¹d be happy ever after Bridge

Chorus

Guitar solo

They had a perfect life a little baby girl She was growing up the double of her mother Only one thing wrong she had a restless heart She was looking for some love and understanding The words her father said they echoed in her head Would she be the one to drive her to another Would Billy come along and sing his rebel song Would she see in him something to belive in Bridge

Chorus repeat
