We were on the Russian border
When the news began to break
Of a nuclear reactor melting down
Sending deadly clouds of dust

Into the atmosphere
Falling down like rain upon the ground

We were laying in the sun
Listening to the radio
When someone said you'd better get inside
We didn't know how serious

The situation was
That many people to the north had died

Red alert, red alert
Screaming in my head
There's something I'm not sure of going down

Red alert, red alert
Screaming in the night
That fallout seems to follow me around

We made out way to Hungary
Got ready for the show
Thinking we were safe there
From the storm

But the deadly cloud was high above
Taken by the wind
Spreading like a plague across the land
A threat you couldn't see

Nothing you could feel
Something evil floating in the air
Look towards the east
For the danger yet to come

For the Earth
We make a silent prayer

Red alert, red alert
Screaming in my head
There's something I'm not sure of going down

Red alert, red alert
Screaming in the night
That fallout seems to follow me around

We were on the Russian border
When the news began to break
Of a nuclear reactor melting down
Sending deadly clouds of dust

Into the atmosphere
Falling down like rain upon the ground

Red alert, red alert
Screaming in my head
There's something I'm not sure of going down

Red alert, red alert
