Tell me what you're thinking, baby
As my hand is touching yours
It may have been an accident
Or maybe it's what I was reaching for I want you to feel some kind of energy
As the reel starts to spin and puts a picture on the screen

So tell me what you're thinking, baby
As I'm walking you to your door
California's cold tonight as we fight through a winter storm
Now here we stand, beneath the shelter of your porch
A simple kiss is all I'm still standing here for

So tell me what you're thinking, baby
As our lips begin to touch
Cause I got one thought inside my mind
It says, "I love you so much."
