(person 1):

"close my eyes
pull my heart strings
pour my tears from your hands
'connections are never easy,' you said empty words empty soul
I believe that we are afraid of one another"

(person 2):

"and I, I believe that you have died within me"
...I fade from myself
I miss you again
I fade from myself
I miss you again...again (what have we got?)
bloody broken and hidden away
I seek the rope from which we will hang or so it seems
or so it seems
the dance of flesh on flesh has rendered us blind

(person 1):

"I look into eyes, I look into stone it's better to be stepped on than left all alone... so now I choke on yesterday when I was someone and I wonder where 'forever' went and how our 'everything' came undone I opened my eyes and the heaven beneath us died."
