Today I was having one of those days pretty amazing
In fact all week long has been crazy, living it lately
And I really can't complain because I'm doing what I love
Well I guess there is one thing, time away from her is tough

Just the thought of you can make me smile
And I wish that you were here right now
Every time gets harder than the last
It's going to be so damn good when I get back

But just for now I need some help
Give me a memory I'll fill it out

[Chorus] Give me one for the road and one for your love, mm hmm
So I can feel you when I sleep along
Give me one to get by and one for when I cry
You pick me up and tell me that I'll be alright
Give me one, give me one
You can kiss me and hug me
Give me one, give me one
You can touch me and love me yeah

Today I could've sworn I saw you, lost
But it wasn't you and that pissed me off
Every pretty girl I see I think of you instantly Oblivious to everything my friends think there's something wrong with me but no
They don't know
Just the thought of you can make me smile
And I wish that you were here right now
Every time gets harder than the last It's going to be so damn good when I get back

But just for now I need some help
Give me a memory I'll dream about

[Chorus] Give me one, give me one
You can kiss me and love me
Give me one, give me one

You can kiss me and love me yeah
