Ooh Yeah

Ja Si Break it down?C'mon?Yeah

Verse 1

A turn of the key early in the morning

You walk in the room

And I can smell that perfume

You tried to explain that you missed the last train,

(No, No?)

You're the only one to blame

Don't wanna play no more games, Yeah!

Should have seen it coming

Should have read the signs

Didn't give a warning

What did you find?

Chorus 1

You've been foolin'way to much around

Never thought you could let me down

Guess I must've been to blind to see

But now your history

Had enough of cheating in my life

Need someone who knows to treat me right

Guess I must've been to blind to see

But now your history

Ooh?Ooh

Now you're history

Ooh?Yeah?Ooh!

Verse 2

I packed your things and left them in the hallway

I hear you curse my name and try to put me to shame

(Shame on you)

Thoughts of you won't ever cross my mind again, no no

I got my number changed

And my heart re-arranged, (ooh)

Should have seen it coming

Should have read the signs

Didn't give a warning

What did you find?

Chorus 2

You've been foolin' way to much around
Never thought you could let me down
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history
Had enough of cheating in my life
Need someone who knows to treat me right
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history

Mid 8

I've done enough
Complaining to my friends
Babe I know
You will never ever change
Moving on
And out of my life
I won't be wasting
No more time on you

Bridge

I don't need you anymore
Won't be making up I'm sure
I am locking up that door
You're history
I won't miss your love at all
When you're gone I'll have a ball
I won't answer when you call
You're history

Outro

You've been foolin' way to much around
Never thought you could let me down
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history
Had enough of cheating in my life
Need someone who knows to treat me right
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history

You've been foolin' way to much around
Never thought you could let me down
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history
Had enough of cheating in my life
Need someone who knows to treat me right
Guess I must've been to blind to see
But now your history
