Lay your cards down Lets fight a war where the weapons equal fact Put your ace down
Your smooth persona contradicts the way you act
He's not the only one, you've got a jack up your sleeve He maybe the king of kings but you're the queen of thieves
You wanted to be heard I want to be heard too
On a post traumatic cruise with the God in you I'll see your first bet I'll raise the heat thru truth and pressure;
rise Lets let the cat out, we could make billions building kingdoms based on lies & of all these things you draw a line when a moment collapses into a year of famine who are you to hold my hand?
You're looking to be hurt (news flash)
I wont be hurting you I've bailed on this ride
There never was a God in you.
