You fell when you ate the pill, & when it comes to us, you pick her still An antidote is what I think you need, you're too weak to proceed Well you're wrong While I'm learning You crave I'm just deeper This fracture don't ask why, you'll get thru this, while I get by Tumbling down again Provoked with hostility, it seems that girls are worth more than your friends may be The whole truth you refuse to see, I think you need another voice in your head to believe You're wrong While I'm learning You crave I'm just deeper This fracture don't ask why, you'll get thru this, while I get by She just wanted a boy who had something to say I'll swallow & choke on these, nothings Wrench in a bike spoke, feather of lead I'd rather be dead than be you, you will burn.
