Baby every now and then I think about you and me and then
That feeling comes around and never lets me down Even when you're far away I think about you and I'm okay
And I go on believing believing in your love I believe in your love

That's the way love should be me lovin' you you lovin' me
We just go to keep that feelin' strong Yes that's the way love should be I believe in you you believe in me

And that's what makes this world worth livin' on Everytime the raindrop falls brings to mind the tears I cried

The day you came to need me and stole my heart away
I don't have to look around I've come to know the sound
As you step quietly to my door Comin' back no more oh I know you want more That's the way love should be...
That's the way love should be...
