Baby we've got everything and the joy of love will bring
Is worth much more to me than solid gold

We were walking passed the windows filled with lots of pretty things
And it hurts as cry to see me dressed in torn and faded jeans
I wanted so to buy her a satin dress so fine
And she looked up into my eyes and as she read my mind
And she said baby we've got everything we can love and we can sing
You got me and I got you to hold
She said baby we've got everything and the joy of love will bring

Is worth much more to me than solid gold

Then we started home together in the freezing winter wind
But the carpet hardly make it and the rain was pouring in
When she snaggled up beside me and smiled at me so sweet
I swore someday I'd win the world I'd place it at her feet
And she said baby we've got everything...
And she said baby we've got everything...
