"Caesura"

I will spill into your body
And make you into me oh I'm sure
I demand a change in your
Faith and of course your stability

I descend your taste
It always confesses all to me
I demand the carnal the sins and
The saints to give you what your worth

I know this all seems so new
It's just I feel so useless
Why can't we just pull ourselves out

This is a call to worship
Your filthy tongues and your lustful eyes
Let them take you as far in life as your weak knees

I know this all seems so new
It's just I feel so useless
Why can't we just pull ourselves out
