What could be more that couldn't be blessed
What can only tie you down is welcomed in
It might seem obscure as enough is
When the lush comes back to twist around your tongue
Hour by hour showing me how to make
The water will gain it's full flow until it
Spills into a body surrounding
Into the dark wood or error lead the way
In this life as nothing proceeds
You'll find that strength in numbers is absolute
The prying is less as the vanishing is formed
Swiftly across our responsibilities
Hour by hour showing me how to make
The water will gain it's full flow until it
Spills into a body surrounding
Into the dark wood of error lead the way
Embrace this wound
A heart so deep
Cavernous split abroad two clavicles
To live to breathe to coincide this dream
I have based it now around you
Lead the way lead the way I won't ever question
You have given me form unrestrained
On and on
I'll admit I'm frightened
On and on
But I know you wont fail
On and on
I just ask you to adore me
On and on
