I'd take you every where, in front of everyone is this all you every imagend, as far as your future plans end we both sing along, to the same old song everyday my life seems a little less dull, just having you around and all i can say, is your so perfect i could

made me so happy tonight
i make you mine

Dont you see, whats become of me i could never forget her, since the day i met her i loved her laughter, and dont you need me like i need you, so feed me with all of the love you can muster well this is how much i love her i was blind before you opened my eyes to a whole new world now, is it such a suprise i need you like the sun needs the sky and i dont know what is is that makes me but break me in two, and i will love this still it seams your all i care to know and all i can say, is your so perfect i could

i make you mine

loved her laughter, and dont you need me

lets just run away, to a special place just pack our things, and run away we could get lost in a day lets just run away, lets just runaway

Dont you see, whats become of me i
loved her laughter, and dont you need me
well this is how much i love her
