I think about you much more than I should Its never ending now its so perfect how I watch you walk my way
And I cant seem to move or say a single thing

I ask myself this question How could I let it get so far well i cant pretend i dont love the way you make me feel

And when the morning comes will you still be with me Did you dream about me i hope you thought about me last night, well i couldnt sleep just thinking of your eyes

Well I'd wait up for you till the sun went away
and id hold you, under the moon under the darkest days
And only you could, make me feel so new 'cause your everything i ever wished upon a star well i wished i was here, in your arms we save another bottle, for out bottems And our hardest critique is seventeen and never yeilding to a beating bullet Im here for you, always i would.

And when the morning comes will you still be with me
last night, well i couldnt sleep

and id hold you, under the moon
under the darkest days
And only you could, make me feel so new 'cause
your everything i ever wished upon a star
well i wished i was here, in your arms
In your arms

In your arms

Well I'd wait up for you
and id hold you, under the moon
under the darkest days
And only you could, make me feel so new 'cause
your everything i ever wished upon a star
well i wished i was here, in your arms
