These days im doing fine but i still know how to make you cry is this a problem, we should try to fix and is we solved them, then why cant this make and sence

And dear i swear you so predictable and loveable in every light but when im gone, will you remember me

So shout my name, on a roof top then id stay for just one more last fall in love, and its over it over and were in love and its over it over

And every word i ever wrote i fill my lungs and i begin to choke im screaming, im screaming for your attention, its never ending now, now is it

and were in love and its over it over

So shout my name
So shout my name

but when im gone, will you remember to say

Id shout your name, on a a rooftop and then id stay for just one more last fall in love and its just begining now and were in love and just begining now and were in love and its just befining now
