You know who you are
And we know who you're trying to be
You try to fool everyone that you can
But you know you'll never quite fool me
And you are
Taking this thing way to far
There's no turning back no going back
No once you are gone I know that I'll be fine

So set fire to everything that you thought you knew about me
It's either not true or time has changed me enough to believe
I am not the same any more Settle all your differences or I will settle your score

Say goodnight
I hope your dreams find you wrapped up tight in your sheets
And covered in your lies
Tonight, I hope you wake up crying
Wake up thinking you did something wrong

You know who you are
And we know who you're trying to be
You try to fool everyone that you can
But you know you'll never quite fool me
And you are
Taking this thing way to far
There's no turning back no going back
No once you are gone I know that I'll be fine

You know who you are
And we know who you're trying to be
But you know you'll never quite fool me
And you are
Taking this thing way to far
There's no turning back no going back
No once you are gone I know that I'll be fine
(I will be fine)

Iâ'll be fine
(I will be fine)
[x3]

I'll be fine

You know who you are
