"In Battle With Angels"

My sword was lifted, as the first one came so delightful - so splendid to rape
I cut her wide open, tore her heart
My eyes they glimpsed, this was blackened art

Riding forth, killing God
I'm in battle with angels
Riding forth, killing God
I shall never surrender

With my spear I killed the second and father God mourned as hell I watched him through the black diamond

These pestilent disciples never had a chance

The last one came forth but she truly was a fallen one She came to join my dark horde the bride of mine she was to become
