There's something eating me from inside out Guess it doesn't matter what I say I cough up blood and words that I regret So long your attention has gone away

These high school words have lost their power
Their meaning bleeds right through this page
I state my case and you impale yourself On points to you I wish I'd made

Let's just pretend this never happened and we'll be on our way
Even with these scars I can't remember how we started anyway
Your blood it stains me like a trophy when I wear it I'm ashamed
Of what I was or what I am or every thing I could have been

You want some proof?
Crack open my skull Safe place where evil thoughts reside These underhanded gestures I make Do they help you sleep at night?

Let's just pretend this never happened and we'll be on
our way
Even with these scars I can't remember how we started
ashamed
