

Schroeder's Songbook

"Tell Natalie"

Visit "Tell Natalie" on MotoLyrics.com

Well, I've spent a million nights

Picking a million fights

With nothing to show

But a few bruises and a little blood spill

But you look so harmless and small

When you're pinned against my wall

But in my head you're undressed to kill

But I try

I try to keep my composure

I never wanted

To get closer to a bedroom poster

I fell in love

Busted my chin

I scraped my knees

And bruised my shin

I sprained my wrist

Making the list

Of all the things I'd do

For just one kiss

I tasted blood

And I saw stars

When he sharp wit
Impaled my heart
And I know I'm half dead on the floor
But tell Natalie I'm back for more
Stuck somewhere in between
Daydreams and magazine
I try to keep my nervous hands subdued
But I'll compensate your grace
With crooked cuts around your face
Yeah, I've got scrapbooks full of you
And I know
You're just flesh and bone and curls
And I know
Another beautiful girl has wrecked my world
I fell in love
Busted my chin
I scraped my knees
And bruised my shin
I sprained my wrist
Making the list
Of all the things I'd do
For just one kiss
I tasted blood
And I saw stars
When he sharp wit

Impaled my heart
And I know I'm half dead on the floor
But tell Natalie I'm back for more
These autographs on all these casts
Aren't just for show
Every time I fall for you
I break another bone
I fell in love
Busted my chin
I scraped my knees
And bruised my shin
I sprained my wrist
Making the list
Of all the things I'd do
For just one kiss
I tasted blood
And I saw stars
When he sharp wit
Impaled my heart
And I know I'm half dead on the floor
But tell Natalie I'm back for more

Visit Schroeder's Songbook page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.