Look at what I'm given
This beautiful creation
This sweet intoxication
Something pure in my life
Look at all these changes
You're the light that shines within me
And you'll be mine completely

I never knew this form of love existed, no
Deep inside of me is where it all begins

So hold me in your heart
Cause you'll have mine forever
Wait and lay inside my arms, I'll protect you for always
Never feel alone, for I'll always be with you
A home is where the heart is meant to be, mmm
You always have a home inside of me

And we will walk this road together
I'll shelter you from burdens
Just lean your weight on me
And stop me bridge the distance
You will always have a home here
Right here inside my arms
There is a love waiting just for you

I never knew this love form of love existed, oh no
A world away from love that I've ever known

So hold me in your heart
Cause you'll have mine forever
Wait and lay inside my arms, I'll protect you for always
Never feel alone, for I'll always be with you
A home is where the heart is meant to be, mmm
You'll always have a home inside of me

No matter where the journey leads you
If your path leads to some place new You'll always have a home in this heart of mine, ohhh, mine

So hold me in your heart
Cause you'll have mine forever
Wait and lay inside my arms, I'll protect you for always
Never feel alone, for I'll always be with you
A home is where the heart is meant to be
And you'll always have a home inside of me

Ohhhh...
