In for the slaughter
I'm coming in for the kill
Asking all those questions
I should have known it was just a phase
They want to judge me
Too afraid to judge themselves
Too afraid to look inside
Too afraid to swallow their pride

It's so sad, don't you know that it's true
Believe in what you're living, that's what you got to do
And you reap what you sow and so shall you reap
And sow your soul will grow

How can you touch me when all you really know is my name?
It doesn't matter when you try to make the blame
And when you're wrong then you want to make amends
You say let's return as friends
I thought we always were

It's so sad, don't you know that it's true
Believe in what you're living, that's what you got to do
And you reap what you sow and so shall you reap
It's time to do the whoas

You want to judge me? [x3]

It's so sad, don't you know that it's true
Believe in what you're living, that's what you got to do
And you reap what you sow and so shall you reap
It's time to do the whoa...

Reap as you sow [repeat]
