A tenner for you thoughts what is this you've got on your mind? always there staring with eyes from the 60's, black and white every day and every night a tenner for your thoughts

A smile and a handshake won't reduce this ocean of time between us my heart takes an extra beat just from the thought that we will never meet my heart takes an extra beat but I close my eyes and get back in line I close my eyes and get back behind you all
'cos today is a day to feel small

No time for thinking tomorrow like 4th of July I'll be the fire and you'll be the light imagine their surprise

So cut off another lock of your hair to return to yourself stop walking in circles, 'cos there's nothing there cut off a lock of your hair

And close your eyes and get back in line close your eyes and get back behind them all
'cos today is a day to feel small
