

David and the Citizens

"Big Chill"

Visit "Big Chill" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a yellow light underneath the clouds
The city is at rest
I think of this and that while holding my breath
But don't ring the alarm
Don't put up a fight
Over things I said and done a 100 years ago tonight
And my back is breaking
And my legs are aching
I'm a long way from home
I'm all alone
But your eyes are here

If I lost myself
The way I fear I could
The way you said I would
If the prophecy was right
Then give yourself a reward now
You know that I walk
One foot after the other
My words just won't come
I walk alone
The sun keeps shining and I keep on falling
Into an unknown place
Into an unknown place
But your eyes are here

Go on, go fast, we don't have much time left
The big chill will hit you when you least expect it
Nobody talks about you like that, huh?
Walk under water and breath 'til you don't bleed
The world is a sad place you're riding on it
So please no excuses, no give me no bullshit
I want you to know that no matter where you go no matter where you go, I want you to know
That my eyes are there

Big chillâ€¦

