Let's play something rick or dead honey - it's your choice this time
I hit the strings a long time ago and the sound's still ringing out loud
I see the sun, I hear the street
I feel the earth beneath my feet
I could move in any direction

And everything is floating
Everything is floating
Everything is floating

So let's pretend, we knew the end
We knew the end was near
You could cut me loose, you could kick me out
Just get me the hell out of here
You look around, you see the stars
You wonder how long you got before you finally go crazy
Remember Kellerman's song
She had her eyes glued shut
Only to keep her from looking

You know, everything is cooking
Everything is cooking
Everything is cooking

And on the bank
On the shore to this wasteland
I sit and sing for you
Nothing's bad and no things good
The only thing that's true
Don't let you troubles bury you

So we take turns in cheering each other up
And we take turns to fall down
Today you're the queen, tomorrow it's me
With the biggest laugh and the crown
And here we stand, hand in hand, eye to eye
Glued to the ground, what's to see around?

What's in this town?
And me I had a vision
And a dream really not that big But lately I just dream of having happiness sliding away from me
Oh, Kellerman you lucky girl
You don't have to see the world
It keeps spinning with of without you
And never will it change
But as they say: "Don't fall out of range..."

'Cause everything is floating
Everything is floating
Everything is floating
Our way
