They called me up to see if I had heard about the accident the accident of a girl sick with the world

This isn't news, it's all old stuff underneath and above us one arrives and one takes off but Let's Not Fall Apart! oh, silence, my heart

all the things I did with you and all the things we'll never do
I saw the sun come up/fall down the days were fast, but time was much too slow

some pretty concrete-sky was blackening my eyes I stood here and I tried to scream, but what came out well, not much of the things I meant to do with my life

efficiency above all get yourself free by following a plot you wake & eat & sleep & wake until it's much too late now finally I see how easy it would be to get the world off of me and get the spies out from the windows and lift myself above the rooftops to leave and to never return I waited my whole life for this answer

the days were fast, but time
