They talk about nothing in here they talk about nothing all the time and they tell you how you should work and they tell you how you should act but it doesn't count it doesn't count

Fly over their heads and out of here passing all things they hold so dear while they keep talking while they're all speaking but I can't hear
'cos I don't care

I'm only bothered by the fact that they're all so pretty

And if the apple falls close to the tree what does it really mean to me?
am I gonna fall am I gonna go just like you did?
