Waking up before the sun came up
Was a fight that I would lose
To fall in love without a heart must be
The hardest part for you

If I could change anything
I'd change everything but you
Please, promise me
You won't change a thing

Lay me down before this flame goes out
And darkness fills the room
Won't make a sound with little ears around
And love begins to bloom

If I could change anything
I'd change everything but you
Please, promise me
You won't change a thing

And even if we fail tonight
I know, I know, I know we did what's right
If they want a fight, I say, I say I'd like to see them try
Yes, I'd like to see them try

If I could change anything
I'd change everything but you
Please, promise me
You won't change a thing
You won't change a thing
