There's a house on the lake
There's a house on the lake

Why don't you come down?

There's a house on the lake
There's a house on the lake

I hope you'll come down

There's a house on the lake
There's a house on the lake

I hope you'll come down

There's a house on the lake
There's a house on the lake

I could be the last true survivor

I'll drive you out of town and I'll show you
We're both country bound
We're both country bound
Nothing's what it seems
We are confusion
Lost behind the scenes
As we hold on to what we almost had
I miss what we once had

There's a house on the lake
There's a house on the lake

Take the corner slow please be careful
The conversation slow as we check to
This hotel vacancy, a hotel vacancy
There's a house on the lake
Where life is simple
There's a house on the lake
Where we'll have all the time
We'll have so much time
The porchlight flickers

I hear you calling
If we could hold one
Would you hold on?
'Cause I feel your breathing
We're closely linked now
If we could turn back
Would you turn back?
As we fall
We have time
So much time
As we lay broken down
I think of all the things to tell you
As we lay in frozen ground
A fallen chance for us to pull through

Let's go
Let's go
Let's go
Let's go home
