I promise to stop loving you tomorrow
Today can be your last day in my arms again
I promise to stop thinking of you constantly
And wishing I could wake up every morning next to you
Darling, yes it's true
But today can we pretend it's not too late?

I promise to stop dreaming 'bout you
Promise to stop waiting for your calls
'Cause I don't wanna care at all
But maybe just tonight we should
Forget about what's right one last time
Because I...

Promise to stop loving you tomorrow
Today will be your last day in my arms again
I promise to stop thinking of you constantly
And wishing I could wake up every morning next to you
Darling, yes it's true
But today can we pretend it's not too late?

Today can we pretend?
