There was a time, When you where in invincible
The world took you on, but you where indestructible,
Life has always been wearing down your skin,
Of building you up and knocking you down again

So what did it take, to finally break you down
You used to cry, you can't even do that now
Your eyes adjusted, like there's nothing left inside Like you lost your will to run & there's no where left to hide

Well hold on, hold on, hold on somehow
Youve held on so long so long so long, don't let go now
There's always somewhere to start again
There's always somewhere to start again...

You walk these streets, like a spirit that lost it's way
Like a ghost left behind, baby you'll move on some day
You can't walk through walls, and I'm not afraid of you
And you're not invisible, but you're so easy to look through

Well hold on, hold on, hold on hold on somehow, Youve held on so long, so long, so long, don't let go now
There's always somewhere to start again
There's always somewhere to start again

You're so beautiful, so unreachable
You're such a torchered heart
Such a daily?, trying to gain
You're so torn apart

So hold on, hold on hold on somehow Youve held on so long, so long, so long, so long, don't let go now
There's always somewhere to start again
There's always somewhere to start again

You'll find someway to live again
You'll find someway to live again
