Damn car broke down again
The heat just did the same
I can feel that cold winter wind creeping in again

Sometimes it comes down at once
Sometimes when it rains it pours
But I wouldn't trade my troubles for any one of yours

Cause money's just money
It comes and it goes
And things are just things baby
So breakable
Ain't nothing last forever except our love and our souls

Cause I ain't that hungry
And I have a home
I ain't fighting for my life
And I'm not alone

So may I pray every morning
As I make up the bed
"Lord, all I need today is my daily bread"

Cause money's just money
It comes and it goes
And things are just things baby
So breakable
Ain't nothing last forever except our love and our souls

Money's just money
It comes and it goes
And things are just things baby
So breakable
Ain't nothing last forever except our love and our souls
