I don't want to talk about anything anymore
Could you just go away?
Take your hand off my door

And no there's not a better time
I guess I'm not getting through
That I'm so under whelmed and so over you

Chorus:
You were fool enough to come here
And you ain't smart enough to leave
I've forgiven you your sins
I accept your apologies
It's not what you did to me
It's more what you couldn't do
Like keep your hands to yourself
And tell the truth
And tell the truth

When I think about our love
All the colors fade to black
And all that I regret is all the time
I can't get back

Don't you think that you've done enough?
Why are you still here?
Why don't you do what your good at and just disappear

Chorus x2
