Morrison (4:45)

Words: David Crosby

Music: James Raymond

He was lost and I don't think he wanted it that way like a gull blown inland on a stormy day

Lost in round one spitting out pieces of his teeth lost in a Paris graveyard carrying his own wreath

And I have seen that movie and it wasn't like that he was mad and lonely and blind as a bat

To the bridge and the falling tree Too deaf to hear his own song
You see

How does anyone get to there
We may never know How they got that far
Or what made them go
But he had flown from his homeland
You could see him there
A gull circling
In the high desert air

(Chorus)

And somehow I Have to learn from this
'Cause I can hear him cry

And feel the hiss

Of the wind in his feathers and the sand on his feet
As he dies in the desert
On that Paris street.

(Chorus out)
