Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race

Friend or foe, stranger or kin
All who come begin again
Hard or frail, rich or poor
All who need, need fear no more
Such a thing to give away

Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race

All regrets, let go, forget
There's something that mends all of it
Such a thing to give away

Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race

Sound the church bells
Let 'em ring, let 'em ring
For everything can be redeemed
We can be redeemed, all of us

Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
Oh happiness
There's grace enough for us and the whole human race
