I'm not a nigga no. I'm a black man
I've got the pride of Claude McKay. I'm a black man I've got the courage of MLK. I'm a black man
The voice of Sojourner Truth. I'm a black man
I'm not a nigga no. I'm a black man
I've got the strength of my mama. I'm a black man I've got the heart of my daddy. I'm a black man I'm in the image of my God. I'm a black man

Verse 1

It's like I'm stuck in a bad dream an can't wake up of it Nobody hears my screams no matter how loud get I've been taken over by some cat I don'tknow
He came and stole my body, infiltrated my soul So I'll stand on this railroad. Here comes the locomotive
I'm 'bout to kill this nigga. I'm unsure of my motive Just know I want him gone. I want the nigga out my life
'Cuz everytime a nigga speaks it gives another nigga life
And another born is just an addition to our plight
The plight of our human race people red, yellow, black, and white So it's not enough to kill just my nigga. I want a genocide Black people we're lions let's take the nigga out the pride
'Cuz everytime it rolls off our tongue we're stabbing in the back
The brothers and sisters who fought so free could connect to black We've bound ourselves in chains man and nigga's just one of the links
I can't break it on my own. I'm strong but need power of we
But too many of we have decided that nigga should be Every black man's name. The black man's I.D.
So I write this rhyme in red ink, dip my pen in the Dead

Sea

Spill blood on my pad to kill the nigga that's been killing me

Verse 2

See I'm gon' write this verse on envelopes so I can address

All the niggas that make a nest and fly out of white breath

This type of halitosis no amount of Scope or Crest Gon' ever make a difference 'cuz the problem rests beneath the breast

It's within the heart of every bigot, every racist person Within the spirit of everybody who don't know for certain

That we're all a child of God, we're all created equal That we are Watu Moja. That means we're One People So white man white man let me tell you this You're still my brother even though color is of a different mix

And I'm gonna love you whether or not you ever give a spit if

I laugh or cry, I live or die when you verbally crack your whip

And black man black man let me say to you Just keep your cool when a white spits a nigga at you Don't let it light your fuse. Just let it roll right off your

Smile at 'em kindly and pray they find the sense they lack

'Cuz if you let that nigga make you bleed you help that nigga breath

And you make that man bleed you become the nigga he wants to see

So I write this rhyme in red ink, dip my pen in the Dead

Spill blood on my pad to kill the nigga that's been
killing me
