I know what you're feeling
Is hard to believe in That home must be millions and millions of light-years away
So let the stars align
And let the water make wine 'cause
Broken souls will become whole tonight, whoa tonight
We know it's right so

(Chorus)

Lift your eyes and let me in
'Cause baby I'm an alien like you
Will you ever wake at night and realize the Reason why you knew me then
Is maybe I'm an alien too
Will you ever let me be an alien with you

Aren't you tired of running
From what you're becoming
The truth is it's useless there's nowhere to go, it's not going to find you,
So let the heavens flare
And let's not be scared, 'cause
We know love's a world above this one
It's like the sun so

(Chorus)

Lift your eyes and let me in
'Cause baby I'm an alien like you
Will you ever wake at night and realize the
Reason why you knew me then
Is maybe I'm an alien too
Will you ever let me be an alien with you

Well the days of solitude are gone
Because we've both spent a way too long
Hearing voices on the radio
(Voices on the radio)
And we can't let anybody know

(Chorus)

Lift your eyes and let me in

'Cause baby I'm an alien like you
Will you ever wake at night and realize the
Reason why you knew me then
Is maybe I'm an alien too
Will you ever let me be an alien
With you
