Open your eyes
It's not a war, it's a renegade silence
No one can take away the violence
Making plans on the train

Let's meet up 8:15, it's alright
She's got reasons to think
He's not all that he says
Now she's with me, she's alright

She's leaving a message, the feeling is strong
The reason she left him will never be wrong
'Cause they make the same mistakes when they're together
Now she's taken a lover

Open your eyes
It's not a war, it's a renegade silence
No one can take away the violence
Making plans on the train

Let's meet up 8:15, it's alright
She's got reasons to think
He's not all that he says
Now she's with me, she's alright

It's not a war, it's a renegade silence
