Do you have the strength to look for a very small pearl in the deep ocean?

Do you still have the bravery to talk with me about love?

Tell me my darling, can it be that life is playing games with us?

It seems that you are tired from feeling confused about your feelings

Reset everything and start from zero

Delete it, sometimes its necessary to love from the beginning

To forget everything

I want to live a full live as if today could be my last day

Whatever comes my way I want to greet, and then walk on

Reset everything and start from zero

To forget everything
