"Hi, I'm In A Coma"

Lifetime jigsaw, cut it off, cut it out. Trust, not trusted.
With armour as thick as veins, jump scene to the coma.

Victims act the part, but the shows over and this is the action. Text to code, break scene, throw it down your throat. When the counter reaches zero find a floor to lie.

And I say to myself, we are quite alone so trust me one more time. [Sung by none other than Callum Hayes of Chaser!)

Removed, I say to myself we are quite alone so trust me one more time.
