Just stare at me while I stare at you
Give me some time to decide which words to use
Cuz I don't know if your ears will have a clue
There's no one else to tell it to

I can't talk to you, you won't talk to me
But you always put me down so graciously
What an empty future that faces me
Not exactly the kind you see in dreams

Do you still dream of me?

We could move til our lips and tongues collide
Cutting off all the world from our love inside
We can put all the strength into our teeth
Save our thoughts for the next time we don't speak
We could sit here drifting worlds apart
I could pray that you'll never find a better heart
I could run and burry my head in the sand

Two bodies meet in the driver's seat
And now for the first time in seven weeks
I remember what it feels like to be complete
Now more than ever I need to feel you breathe

I can't look at you, you won't look at me
But you keep stealing glances at my feet
I remember the time when we used to be
More than just a painful memory

We could move our lips and teeth aside
Make a path for the breath to get inside
We could put all our time into our kiss
Never would've guessed our lies would come to this
We could speak from the corners of our mouth
Just as long as we don't let the feelings out
We could run and I'd make you mine if you'd like

And I wanna make you stay
I love you more and more each day
I wanna make you stay
I love you more and more each day

We could move til our lips and tongues collide
Cutting off all the world from our love inside
We can put all the strength into our teeth (I love you more and more each day)
Save our thoughts for the next time we don't speak

Two bodies meet in the driver's seat
And now for the first time in seven weeks
I remember what it feels like to be complete
Now more than ever I need to feel you breathe

I can't look at you, you won't look at me
But you keep stealing glances at my feet
I remember a time when we used to be
