It's a pity little price to pay to make the hard times go away but i love you as you are i say the words and then i'm not so sure exactly what we say them for and this is my concern

but everybody needs a place to start oh weightless be your heavy heart and lean your thoughts on me and aint it hard to live on smoke and dreams when spirit crushers work in teams to leave you where you are you decimate my inhibitions

i can't be saved
let's take a walk out on the broken glass come on come on come on
i can't be saved
so lay all your worries on my back come on come on come on come on

to give a little self away and lean your thoughts on me it cannot be so hard to get along though history may prove me wrong and it wouldn't be the first time

i can't be saved
come on come on come on

come on come on hey come on
