And still you're waiting for, an open door
A ray of light, to lead you right
To lead you in to a place
Where you're not fighting your sane
Your weakness is you and you've been fighting yourself all the way
And you try, to identify
The world it owes you

So you sit around and you're waiting for
Waiting for, waiting for an open door
Waiting for, waiting for, waiting for an open door

To lead you right onto, a path that is sane Yet you can't admit any mistakes you made along the way
And you wait, you figure you've paid
You hang onto faith and you wonder

Still you're waiting for
Waiting for, waiting for an open door
Waiting for, waiting for, waiting for an open door

You're holding on, but where is your god, your life's all but lost
And now you wonder what went on that day
Still you pray, for the chances you waved
That is all the hope you have today
Your time is drawing near You're facing your fears
Your life's past you by
And you've only got yourself to blame
For your hate, your lonely old pain
The proof was all there along the way
