A statement from the obvious in case you might be curious

Its another thing, a welcoming, another story time we've been in

Nothing is different but we all tried and we all lie
So could you look them in the eye
Would it make a difference?
You see the evidence it doesn't lie
He stands alone and waves goodbye he did his part
Is that real smart?

So where would you have been just yesterday?
So where would you have been just yesterday?
What matters most is less of those a steady tide, a longer ride
Another thing, a welcoming, another story time we've been in

Nothing is different but we all tried and we all lie
So could you look them in the eye
Would it make a difference?
You see the evidence it doesn't lie
He stands alone and waves goodbye he did his part
Is that real smart?

Just listen, I've given, I could do more I'll ride it, tonight it's going to cost more
A chance to plan, a place to land
I would but I'll walk again, I'll walk again, I'll walk again

Remember what you said to me?
Or has something dried your memory?
Another thing, a welcoming, another story time for yesterday
For yesterday, another story for yesterday

Can't you tell? We may as well
Can you not see
Or are you blinded from yesterday?
