In the land of the twilight, under the moon
We dance for the idiots.
Ring-around-the-roses, jump to the moon
We sing with the castanets.

I will sing for the crescent moon
Dancing with the castanets.
As the end will come so soon
In the land of the twilight.

High and loud, the sound of your bell of the twilight...
Ringing...
All alone
It rings and echoes in the twilight.

Now you are watchin' us
Outside the circle.
Wanna be in the company boy, but you are lonely
Dance with nobody.
Run away child to your hiding place.

In the land of the twilight, under the moon
We dance for the idiots.
Ring-around-the-roses, jump to the moon
We sing with the castanets.
