English translation:

I think that surely I'll return here in the end
Together we watched the beginning of the world
Because I've certainly reached that place just once
Even if you left my hand, I'd never be afraid again

Memories accumulate in my body that seems empty
I also create them and fill myself little by little
In that way, people become what people are Thoughts that I don't want to forget stack in my heart

Even when I go faraway to somewhere
I'm here, I'm inside of you
Like the star that guides you
I'm always here

Even when I leave you and go
Because I'm sure that I can return
To that place engraved in my chest
I'll go on without looking back

You sweetly yet bitterly poured
The memory named 'love' into my chest that seemed empty
Because I've certainly reached inside you just once
I'll never be afraid of stretching out my hands again

Even if I don't find it now
That which is precious still exists
I arrived at
The nights on which I simply held you

Even when I go faraway to somewhere
I'm here, I'm inside of you
Like the star that guides you
I'm always by your side
