Its all too revealing
Your words are deceiving
I can't let you get in my way
I sense all your actions
Are meant as distractions
You must know I won't play your game
Fake your more than I can take
And something's going to break
Get out of my head
No shame your passing all the blame
And nothing's going to change
Get out of my head

You make me realize that's it's all a lie
And it comes as no surprise
Stay for awhile
Stay because you make me smile
There's no compromise

I'm sick of pretending
The thoughts are unending
I can't let you get in my way
I'm no longer pending
My mind set is mending
And now I have something to say
Fake your more than I can take
And something's going to break
Get out of my head
No shame your passing all the blame
And something's going to change
Get out of my head

You make me realize that's it's all a lie
And it comes as no surprise
Stay for awhile
Stay because you make me smile
There's no compromise

Fake your more than I can take
And something's going to break
Get out of my head
Shame your passing all the blame
And nothing's going to change
Get out of my head

You make me realize that's it's all a lie
And it comes as no surprise
Stay for awhile
Stay because you make me smile
I see no compromise

Stay for awhile
Stay because you make me smile
I see no compromise

Stay for awhile
Stay because you make me smile
I see no compromise

Shame your passing all the blame
And nothing's going to change
Get out of my head
